“The CEFA Diploma program has allowed me to further study and comprehend the knowledge accumulated during my professional activity – mainly in Financial Analysis, Macroeconomics, Finance and Investment. I have gathered new knowledge in newly expanding areas of the Romanian economy, such as Bonds, Derivatives, Portfolio Management. It is a well-structured program, focused on self-learning and it entails sustained effort on behalf of the student. The program contributes to understanding complex economic concepts, such as market functions; the lecturers have an especially valuable contribution – they are financial and banking professionals who give up-to-date practical illustrations of the theoretical subjects presented, and who make themselves available to students all throughout the program. I highly appreciate the CEFA Program for its contribution to training high caliber specialists in financial analysis and more, and I wish it great success in the future.”
